Fund Started Early For Next Year's Fireworks Display

Pahokee Chamber of Commerce president, Earl Mindlin, announced this week that collections taken at the Fourth of July Fireworks display at Pahokee dock totaled $198.58.

"This money will be put in a separate fund toward a bigger and better (we hope) fireworks display for next year," Mr. Mindlin said.

Pahokee and Canal Point Lions Club and Pahokee Rotarians contributed better than half the $198 to $200 spent for this year's event. Mr. Richard Hurt of City Products Company, Pahokee, contributed all the makings and equipment for (g)balls which were sold during the evening, netting $61.80.

The balance of this year's fund came from individual donations.

"We want to express our sincere thanks to all the people of the Glades for their wholehearted contribution toward next year's display. Our particular thanks to the organizations whose contributions made this year's show possible.

An estimated 775 cars, which would indicate about 3,000 people, witnessed this year's fireworks.

Mrs. Lillian Padgett, secretary of Pahokee Chamber, said a few checks towards next year's fund have come in since the Fourth. (We gathered additional ones in any amount would be most welcome).

South And Central Florida FCD Officially Marks Two Milestones

At its last Wednesday's meeting, the Board of Central and Southern Florida Flood Control District officially accepted Central and Southern Florida Flood Control works to make the total 430 square miles in Palm Beach and Broward counties, and raised the percentage to 92.5, with 92.5 of a mill of the authorized limit.

Chairman Riley S. Miles of Broward pointed out that the additional millage is necessary to match funds provided by the federal government—$9,000,000.

"It's not how much money is spent and where it is spent, but how much money is saved in terms of flood damage prevention," says the Chairman.

"The U.S. Army Corps of Engineers have calculated that the total flood control project will return $4 in benefits for every $1 spent—already more than $82,000,000 in flood damage has been prevented since '52."

The total expenditures to date according to G. E. Dail, Jr., Executive Director is around $100,000,000.

It is estimated that some $6,000,000 annually will be saved.

Florida Turnpike Has Safety Record

John M. Hammer, Chairman of the Florida State Turnpike Authority, said today that the Sunshine State Parkway, Florida's turnpike, came through the thirty-fourth of July holiday with an excellent safety record.

"In fact, during the period extending from six p.m. Friday, June 30, through midnight, July 1, the Florida Highway Patrol Troop assigned to the Parkway reported only one minor accident on the superhighway," Hammer added.

Chairman Hammer added, "since its opening in 1957 the Parkway has compiled an amazing safety record of only 2.5 fatalities per 100-million vehicle miles. There have only been 22 fatalities on the Parkway."

County Delays Action On Liquor Store Hours

Further action on a request to change hours for operation of liquor establishments in the Glades, was delayed this week until further facts in the case could be presented.

The county has been awaiting the results of several municipal elections voting on possible changes in hours of operation. One election ran out on an injunction last week and the balloting resulted in a "straw vote."

Belle Glade residents banded to keep the hours the same as they are now. The straw vote in Pahokee showed a similar pattern.

A request to the commission, asking that the hours remain the same as established in 1952, was submitted to the board by the Canal Point Methodist Church.

Nail In Foot Stymies Fishing

Chief Goodlett and family were vacationing on an island near Captiva and bringing home more fish than they could eat.

When the Chief stepped on a nail in a board under some floating hyacinths he decided that no fishing, plenty of mosquitos and lots of heat made Belle Glade desirable. So they bundled up and came home.

The keynote of his tour of duty is indicated in his remarks at the time of his election: "There is an erosion of moral standards — let's reestablish America's moral character."

"Let's place glory, honor, courage, hard work and abiding faith in God."

Fla. '61 Legislature - In Retrospect

Post Legislative Remarks

by Rep. Emmett S. Roberts

So often immediately following a session of the Florida Legislature, there is a let-down on the part of the public as to what is happening in its state government.

The period between the end of the session and the beginning of the new fiscal year on July 1, is quite frantic on the part of the various state agencies, in determining what impact new legislation has on the agency operations for the next biennium. This is mostly true in the field of appropriations.

County Delays Action On Liquor Store Hours

Further action on a request to change hours for operation of liquor establishments in the Glades, was delayed this week until further facts in the case could be presented.

The county has been awaiting the results of several municipal elections voting on possible changes in hours of operation. One election ran out on an injunction last week and the balloting resulted in a "straw vote."

Belle Glade residents banded to keep the hours the same as they are now. The straw vote in Pahokee showed a similar pattern.

Operator Authorized At Glades Airport

Initial action to secure a base operator for the Glades Airport at Pahokee, was taken by the county commission this week. The board instructed its airport director and county engineer to open negotiations for a base operator.

The board also instructed the engineer and airport director to confer with South Bay Growers on the firm's request to build a hangar at the Glades Airport.

Closing Hours "As Is" Say A Majority Voting

Four hundred forty-two entered the polls, but ten of them failed to push or pull the right gill-gadget to register their votes in the straw ballot held last Friday on whether to maintain the present hours of operation of retailers of alcoholic liquors.

Some two hundred eighty-two voted to maintain the status quo while the balance wanted to conform to the county's permit department, Room 219, Federal Building, (Mailing Address: P.O. Box 4964), Jacksonville, Florida. Bids should be submitted to Mr. Selzer not later than July 24, 1961.

Auto Travel Pays Again Rubber Tires Taxed

The recently enacted Federal Aid Highway Act of 1961 imposes a floor stock tax of 1 cent a pound on inner tubes of the type used on highway vehicles not applied to tires or inner tubes for any type of tire except inner tubes for bicycle tires, and 2 cents a pound on tread rubber used in retreading tires. District Director Laurie W. Tomlinson said today.

The floor stock tax does not apply to tires or inner tubes which are held for sale by the manufacturer, producer, or importer, nor does the tax apply to tires or inner tubes which at the first moment of July 1, 1961, are actually mounted on a vehicle held for sale by a person who is not the manufacturer, producer, or importer of the vehicle.

Florida's Comptroller, as administrator of the Sales and Use Tax, always has a most difficult task. It is his responsibility to interpret and enforce the many changes which occur in this field. Some fifteen changes to this tax, closing loopholes, are enumerated here—

CHANGES IN FLORIDA'S SALES AND USE TAX LAWS

1. Admissions — removed restrictions by reason of federal exemption.
2. Credit & Installment Sales — Dealer cannot be allowed tax credits on bad debts, uncollectible accounts, repossessions, etc.
3. Reciprocity — Except from motor vehicles property bought in other states and taxable there, then later brought into Florida would be subject to tax in Florida.
4. Tax Separately — Sales Tax must be paid on charge tickets, sales slips, invoices, etc. (Continued On Page 8)

"We're Having A Ball" Say 60 Summerites

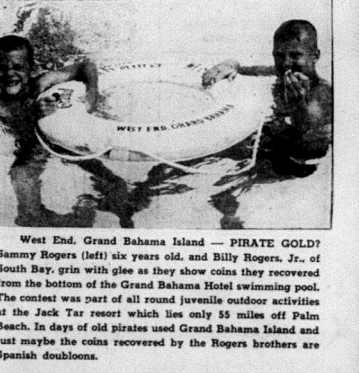

Summerites, to the tune of around 60 who attended last week's night of fun and frolic at Jameson Hall, all agree that they're "having a ball." Whatever that means, it apparently indicates a "howling good time."

How To Give A Hawaiian Luau Party

The luau, traditional Hawaiian feast, provides an exceptional party theme for party-givers anywhere. Gay, friendly, beautiful—it's easy to give and fun to go to.

Everyone enjoys the informal atmosphere, the melodic music, and colorful decor that are part of the luau spirit. Perhaps you'll want to take advantage of the warm summer days and evenings to give your first luau in your patio or backyard.

To stimulate the Hawaiian theme, use the materials and foods available in your kitchen or local grocery store. With a little imagination you can achieve that tropical look with a minimum of cost. Here's how:

Cover your table with a dark green cloth or paper table cloth. For your luau centerpiece, pineapple ferns with melons, pineapples, oranges, bananas, coconuts.

Millaine and Joe enjoyed a trip to Key West this week. They stopped in Marathon where they visited his brother Carl Freedlund and family. The Woolley family who live in Oklahoma City are spending the summer here with their parents.

Traffic Victims Praise Local Aid

"It couldn't have happened in a nicer place" says Miss Iva Gauthier one of four victims of an automobile accident on US Highway No. 27 on a return trip from the Miami Shrine Convention.

As a result of a flat tire which caused the Cadillac in which they were driving to skid out of control and into several of the trees bordering the highway, four persons found themselves in the Belle Glade Memorial Hospital, recovering from bruises, contusions and other injuries until July 4th.

"Even as we were lying along the roadside bruised, bleeding and suffering from shock passing motorists stopped and gave every aid possible, including covering us with their coats and lending whatever aid was possible," says Mrs. Lippman, one of the victims.

Mr. Lippman, husband of one of the victims was high in his praise for the hospital, its attendants and nurses, as well as of the medical attention given the injured.

"The Shrine boys here have visited us and given every aid we could wish; even the patrolman's wife has visited us, and other local citizens have interested themselves in our welfare."

"Yes, we'll always remember Belle Glade, its hospital, doctors, nurses and the fine folks who were so considerate," say the New Orleans passing visitors.

Others in the party are Harold Bruchis and Ben Volodarsky all of New Orleans.

Co. Commission Insists On Enough Right-of-Way

The Palm Beach County Commission Monday stuck to its guns on sub-division right-of-way requirements and won a battle which will mean future savings for taxpayers.

The disagreement arose over requested approval for a Pahokee subdivision named Parkview Manor. The plat—an eight-acre development—had been approved by the Pahokee council despite the fact that right-of-way requirements for improvement of State Road 715 were 17 feet short of what was called for by road department engineers.

When presented recently to the county commission for approval, the plat with the skimmed right-of-way, brought no action from the board. At that time, the county group agreed that lending its approval to plats without sufficient right-of-way would put the board in a position of having to purchase right-of-way at some future date—and at much more expense to the taxpayers.

Despite strong arguments by the developers' attorney and facing the possibility of a law suit, the county commission held its ground and again declined to take any action on the plat.

Later, after a corridor conference, the developers returned to the meeting and told the board that the requested right-of-way would be made available. The commission agreed to approve the plat after it was re-drawn and after it had again won approval of the Pahokee council.

It was pointed out at the meeting, that municipalities and not the county commission, has the authority to establish setback lines within towns. In many cases where towns have failed to establish the set back lines, the county commission has been forced into lengthy and costly right-of-way suits.

Chain Referral Sales Plans Violative Of Postal Fraud and Lottery Statutes

Chain referral sales plans are violative of postal fraud and lottery statutes, according to an announcement made today by I. L. Price, Executive Director of the Belle Glade Chamber of Commerce.

Price warned local merchants and consumers that, according to the National Better Business Bureau, the United States Post Office Department has ruled that the typical chain referral sales plan has the three essential elements of a lottery—prize, chance and consideration, and is fraudulent in design and intent.

In a recent typical chain referral case, the Post Office Department ruled that the purchase of an article constitutes "consideration," and the promise of commissions, representing "prize." The element of "chance" is present in the chain referral scheme because the amount of reward available to participants depends upon the efforts of others over whom the participant has no control, and is therefore a matter of chance. Hence the chain referral sales plan is a lottery.

Although the Post Office Department is required to establish that a promoter has intent to defraud, it may infer that a promoter is aware of the fact that some participants in a chain referral scheme will be unable to realize the commissions promised because of the unavailability of enough prospects to keep a chain going endlessly. When promises of large rewards are made to induce participation, in the full knowledge that they cannot be realized by some participants, a reasonable inference is that a promoter's representations to the contrary are fraudulent within the meaning of the postal statutes.

'60 Was A Banner Year In Fla. Slaughtering

Commercial slaughtering of cattle and calves in Florida turned upward last year following a two year decline, the 1960 Census Bureau of Commerce reported yesterday. Live weight, and 196,440 calves Florida's total slaughterings went through slaughtering plants and packing houses in the state. Cattle were up 14 per cent in number, 13 per cent in weight from 1959. Calves were more by 73 per cent in number and 88 per cent in weight. The combined weight of cattle and calves was 18 per cent below the 1957 figure.

"The volume of livestock going to slaughterhouses with national market conditions. The movement of Florida cattle to ranches outside the state and the building up or culling of herds by Florida ranchers are other factors which affect the slaughter volume."

"Hogs and pigs slaughtered in Florida last year totaled 583,000 animals weighing 113,987,000 pounds, both slightly under 1959.

"The total volume of all animals slaughtered came to 442,899,000 pounds, on the hoof, including about a thousand sheep. Slaughtering for farm use are not included."

Roadside White Lines Effective In Safety

Edgelling an American highway, a comparatively recent development which involves painting white reflective guide lines along the right hand side of the pavement will be increased by over 23,000 miles this summer, William B. Weiland, Director of Traffic and Safety for the Florida AAA Division, reported today.

Florida ranks high on the list with 400 miles scheduled to be white-striped. The state now has 2,500 miles bearing the safety-type lines.

Georgia, which now has 2,300 miles, will catch up to Florida this year if plans to paint an additional 800 miles are carried out. North Carolina leads all states with 18,000 miles now done and 8,000 more scheduled for painting before the end of the year.

"For the nation as a whole," Weiland said, "by the end of this year, a total of 87,000 miles will be edgelled, an increase of more than one-third over the previous year."

"According to current studies, before and after surveys have shown marked reduction in accidents, deaths and injuries after edgelling was installed. Ohio reported a 37 per cent reduction and Kansas a 25 per cent cut in fatalities along edgelled test sections."

"Major use of edgelling is now concentrated in the eastern part of the United States, where virtually every state has at least some white shoulder guides."

Belle Glade Swim Team Teenagers

THE ADVANCED AGE GROUP of Belle Glade Swimming Team—all teenagers—posed on the side of Belle Glade Municipal Pool area, left—Martin Fryer, Sherry Burgess, Martha Brane, Ann Murray, Danny Dexter, Millie Kirkham.

Swim Meet Aug. 2

Belle Glade Swimming Team Members Practice For Coming Trio Competition

The teenage group of Belle Glade's Swimming team are counted on heavily when they meet other teams in competition, as in their recent meet with Clewiston.

The next scheduled competition is August 2, here at the Municipal Pool when a trio bout will be held with Okeechobee and Clewiston. The public is invited to attend this meet.

In the group are Martin Fryer, on a swim team for the first time this year, who swims two strokes, free style and breast stroke. He is anchor man on the 15-16 year-old relay.

Sherry Burgess, on the swim team for the second year, is one of the team's standouts, ready and willing to participate in any team work, anywhere, anytime, according to pool manager Harry McDonald.

This is Martha Brane's third year on the team. She is a past Palm Beach County breast stroke champion.

Probably the senior in age on the team is Ann Murray, a swimming enthusiast, always eager to participate in any swimming event.

Danny Dexter who has returned for his second year is the only 13-14 year old boy participating and is counted on by the team to take scores in any competition.

Millie Kirkham, a newcomer in relationship to the rest, is expected to raise the team's score at their next meet.

Team membership requires that a swimmer be good enough to swim 50 yards in good style without stopping for a rest, the coach said. Only ability counts, there is no age requirement.

At present there are 25 to 30 members on the team attending practice four times a week, Mondays, Wednesdays, Fridays and Saturdays. "You have to be a strong swimmer to make it through the practice," McDonald said.

Anyone is welcome at anytime to watch the team in their practice series.

An estimated 25,000 persons visited the Florida agricultural showcase at New York's Rockefeller Center during a recent month.

Helen Hart Attends

National FHA Meet

Miss Helen Hart, 17, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Hart, Belle Glade, was one of the 19 Florida delegates to attend the 1961 National Meeting of Future Homemakers of America held the week of July 3-6 at Chase Plaza Hotel in St. Louis, Missouri.

Miss Hart is F.H.A. state treasurer.

Theme for the meeting was Youth . . . Measure Your Values. During the four-day meeting, prominent speakers and individual discussions by members helped the 1,150 delegates of this high school organization for students studying homemaking, gain understanding of how and where they get their values and what values are important to teenagers. Delegates even had an opportunity to take a test of their personal values as a demonstration of the ways values affect decisions.

Family life was ranked as a top value held by the Future Homemakers. Their tests showed that as a group they rated Education, Economics and Health as next importance. Dr. Glen R. Hawkes, Head of the Department of Child Development, Iowa State University, who interpreted the test results at the final session, told the delegates that these values would be expected of Future Homemakers because of their leadership positions in a school organization that has the improvement of home and family living as its stated goal. "The same values stated goal. The same values and ranking of values might not be typical of all teenagers," he said.

At the final session delegates buzzed on ways to stimulate further thinking among teenagers on values and planned ways to continue work in local chapters and State Associations.

While attending the meeting Helen, a senior of Belle Glade High School, served as one of the three voting delegates from the state of Florida.
